The Top 3 Things To Do When A Pipe Bursts

A burst water pipe can create serious damage to your home, office and belongings. When you find a burst pipe follow the top three tips below immediately to mitigate water damage.

Tip #1: Stop the Water Flow

Shut off the main water supply by turning off the main stop tap, which is usually either in the area where the main service pipe connects to your home or office. Ensure that everyone in your family knows where the main water supply valve is located and how to turn it off in case of an emergency.

Tip #2: Find the Break

Once you've found the burst, you'll know what you have to do next. For instance, if it's a tiny crack, patching it up may fix the problem for a while. Also, consider which pipe has burst. If the damage is in a main water pipe, it needs to be repaired and dealt with carefully regardless of the cause or size of the break.

Tip #3: Get Professional Help

If there is flooding or water damage in the home, call ServiceMaster by Disaster Professionals to remove the water and begin the dry out process. Attempting to do the repairs and restoration on your own can be dangerous or cause further damage so it is best to let the experts do the work.
